

RETRACTABLE AWNINGS

Elite Cassette II Retractable Awning

The recently upgraded Elite Cassette II is our premium tier retractable awning. This full package awning encloses the fabric into a powder coated, extruded aluminum housing.

Accent's cassette construction provides classic eye appeal while offering additional protection for your awning when retracted for long periods of time. When you purchase an Elite Cassette II, you're choosing a fully protected awning you'll never have to worry about. The Elite Cassette II retractable awning is custom-made in our own factory and subject to rigorous quality control procedures like all other Accent made products.

Two-Part, Aluminum Enclosure

The Elite Cassette II awning uses a two-part, aluminum enclosure that surrounds the roller tube and fabric, keeping dirt and debris out of the system. The shoulder-tilting mechanism uses a unique design that guarantees a flush, even enclosure. When the awning is retracting, at about six inches before it arrives at the roller tube, the mechanism causes the arm to "jump" to a true horizontal position. This allows a perfect coupling of the front bar with the cassette housing.

Classic Cassette Construction

Accent's cassette construction is eye-catching yet practical, offering additional protection for your awning when retracted for long periods of time. With the ability to span any width from 6 to 19.8 feet and four projections ranging from 5 to 10 feet, the Elite Cassette II provides maximum shade and protection
